Executive Proclamation
Office of the Governor

Whereas, Sharon K. Geyer has chosen to abandon South Dakota, friends and family for adventures in Arizona and will wave good-bye to many successful years as manager of Rapid Lube in Rapid City, South Dakota; and,

Whereas, Sharon's fellow golfers will miss the competition and the "tooting" of her Hole-In-One; and,

Whereas, The Land of Kachink, Kachink will observe an increase of funds as Sharon always wins; and,

Whereas, Sharon's observation of imperfections of others "spinach in teeth" and "spot on shirt" will forever be visible without her; and,

Whereas, The world, according to Sharon, gets better as she gets older; and,

Whereas, Sharon's generosity beyond the call of duty will be fondly remembered by many; and,

Whereas, If or when, Sharon returns to South Dakota, she must reclaim her friends and acquaintances by treating all to chicken fried steak; and,

Whereas, All of those whose lives Sharon has touched send good wishes and happiness:

Now, Therefore, I, M. Michael Rounds, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim October 1, 2004, as in South Dakota.

SHARON K. GEYER DAY

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-seventh Day of September in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Four.

M. Michael Rounds, Governor

Attest:

Chris Nelson, Secretary of State
